

Facing up to old age

A MAN'S face is the key to his state of mind – and the more symmetrical the better.

The more even his features, the more likely it is he'll stay mentally alert in later life.

Researchers at Edinburgh University said it means more brains at 80, perhaps because symmetry indicates less exposure to disease or toxins.

